

THE FALL OF A SPARROW

Hamlet Act 5 Scene 2

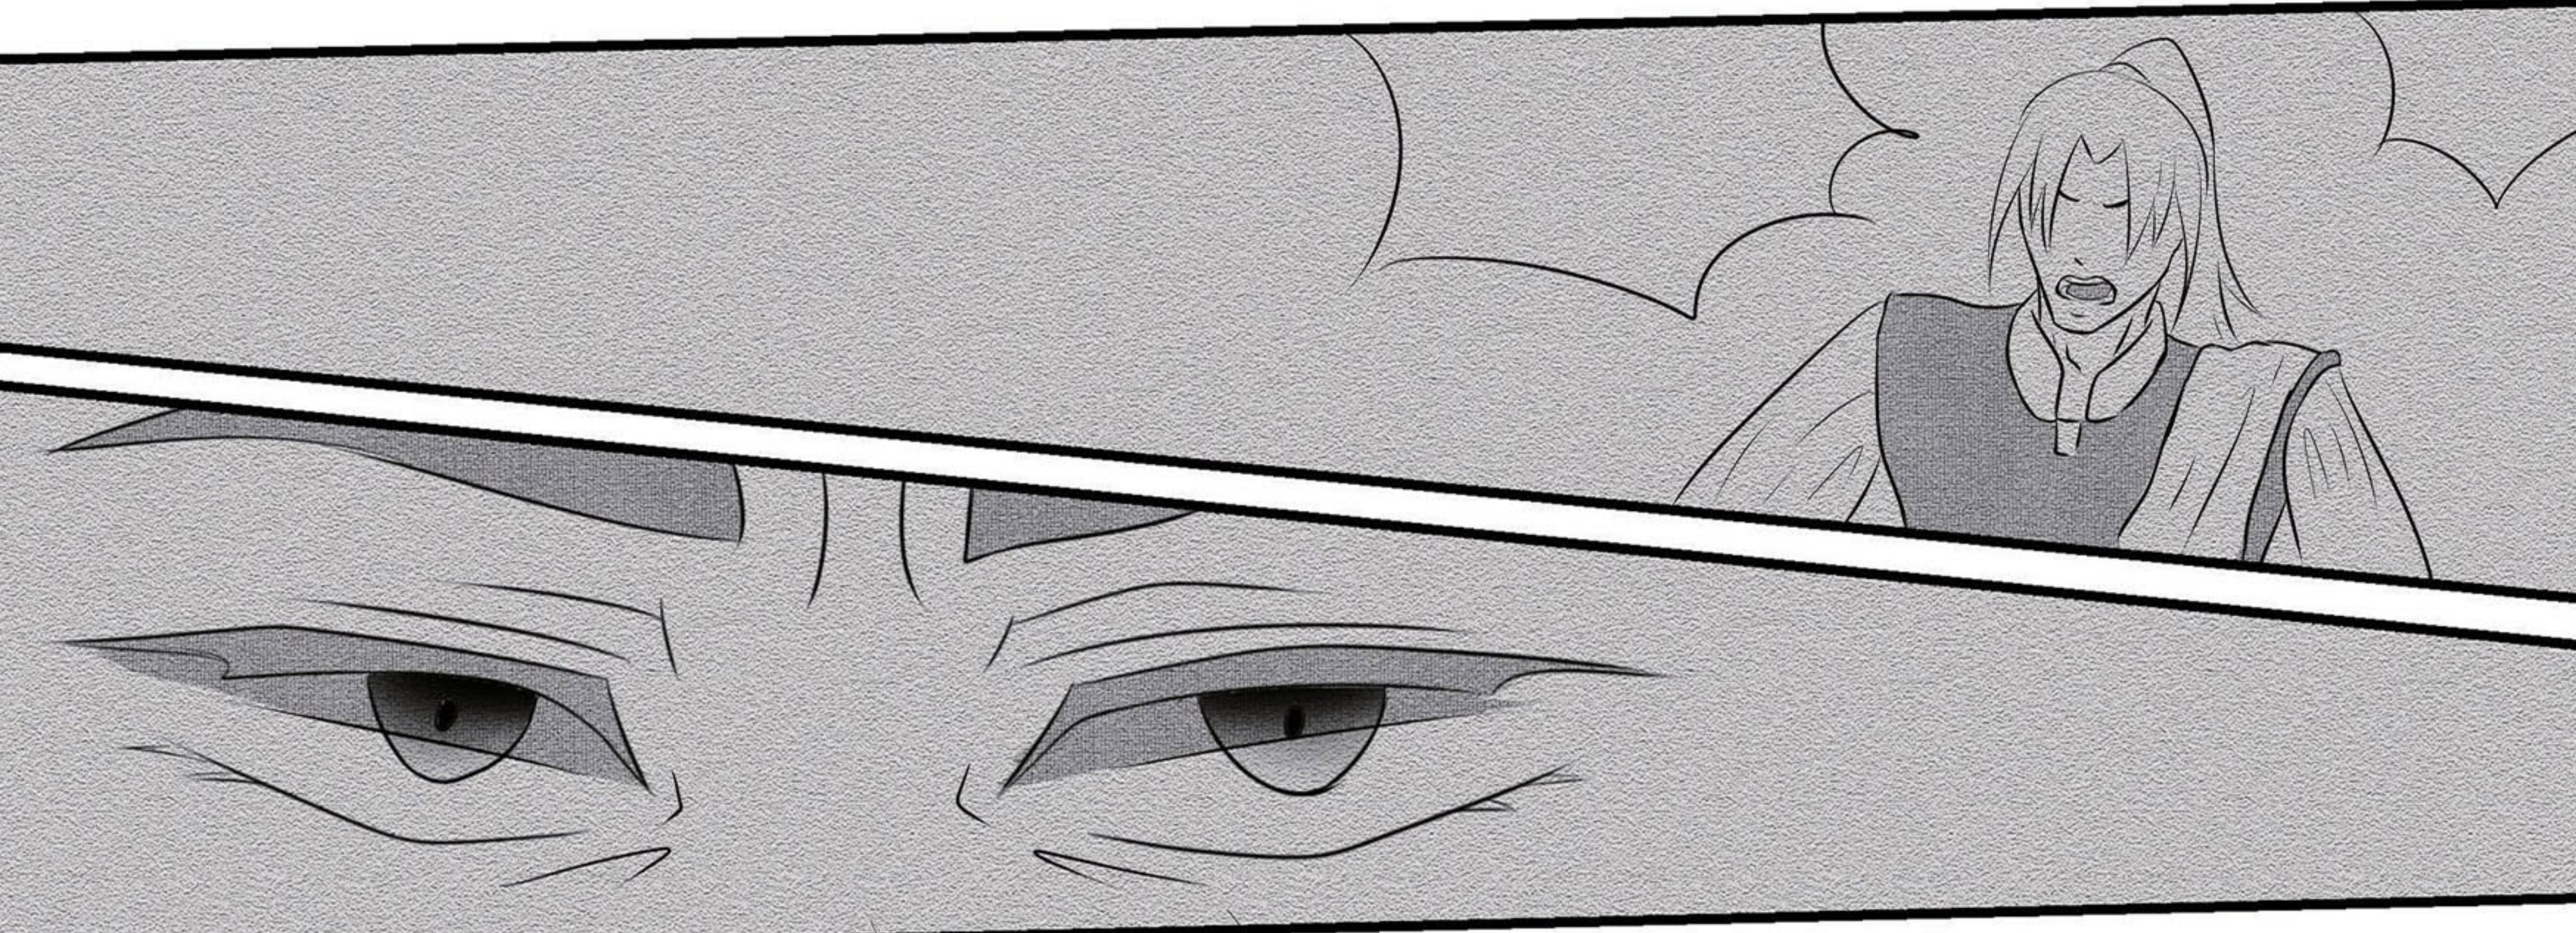

BY: HANNAH DIMAPILIS

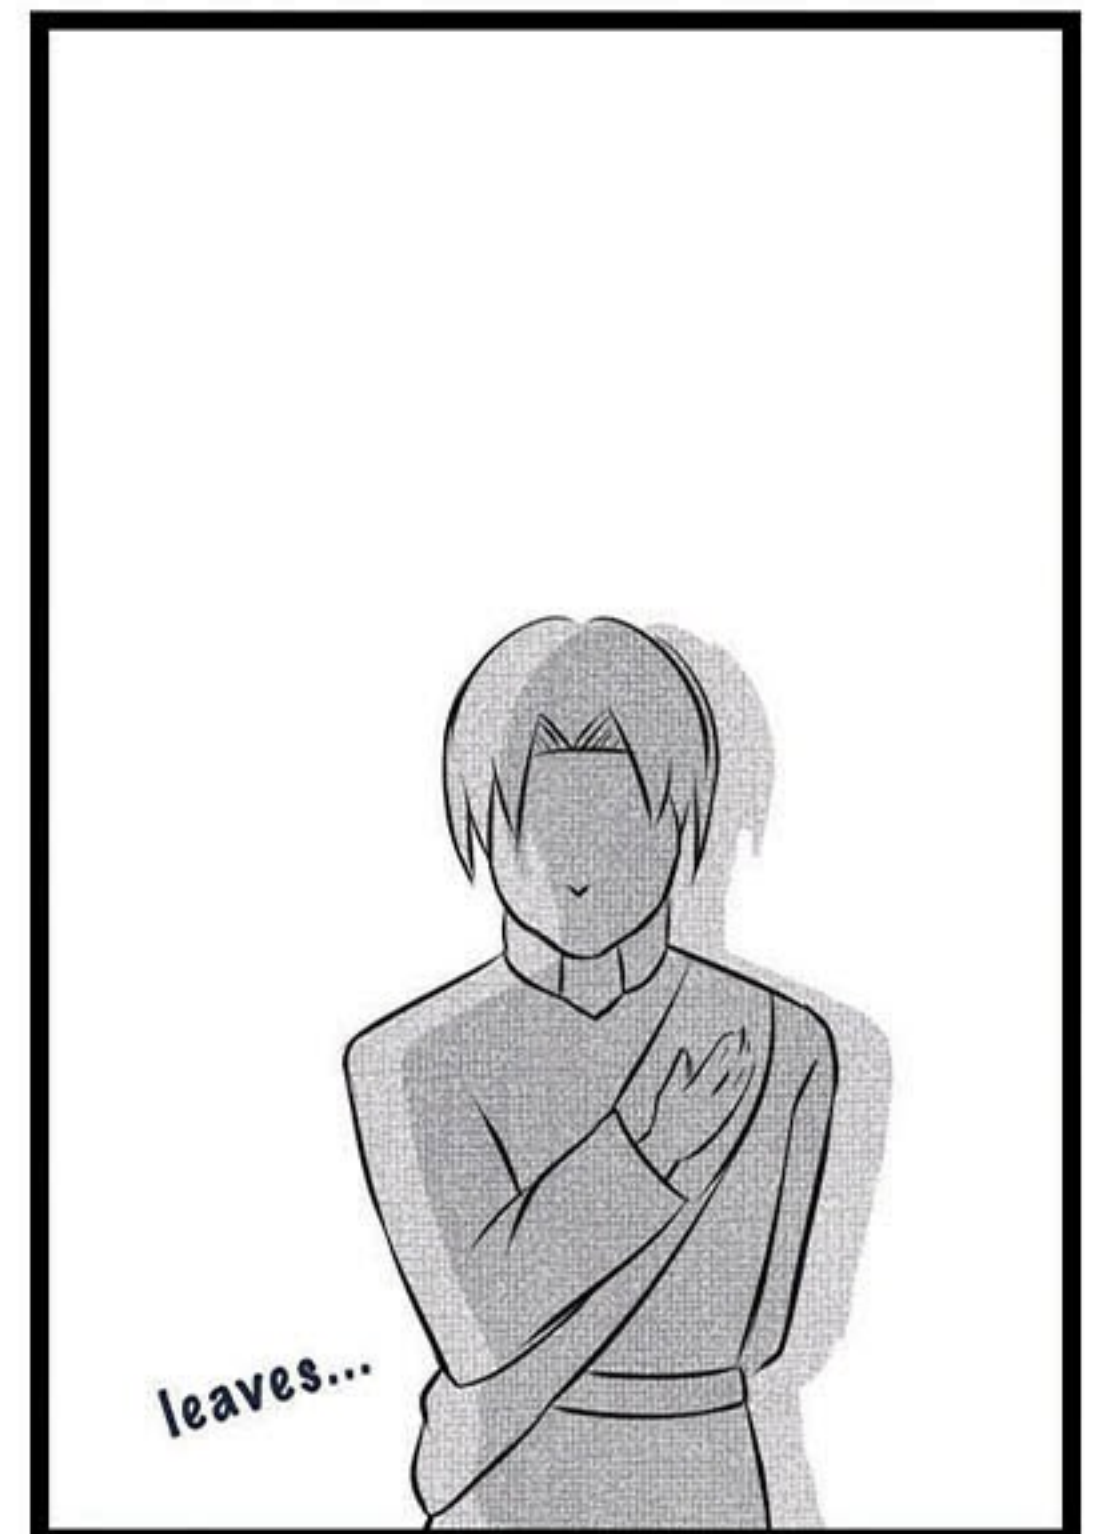

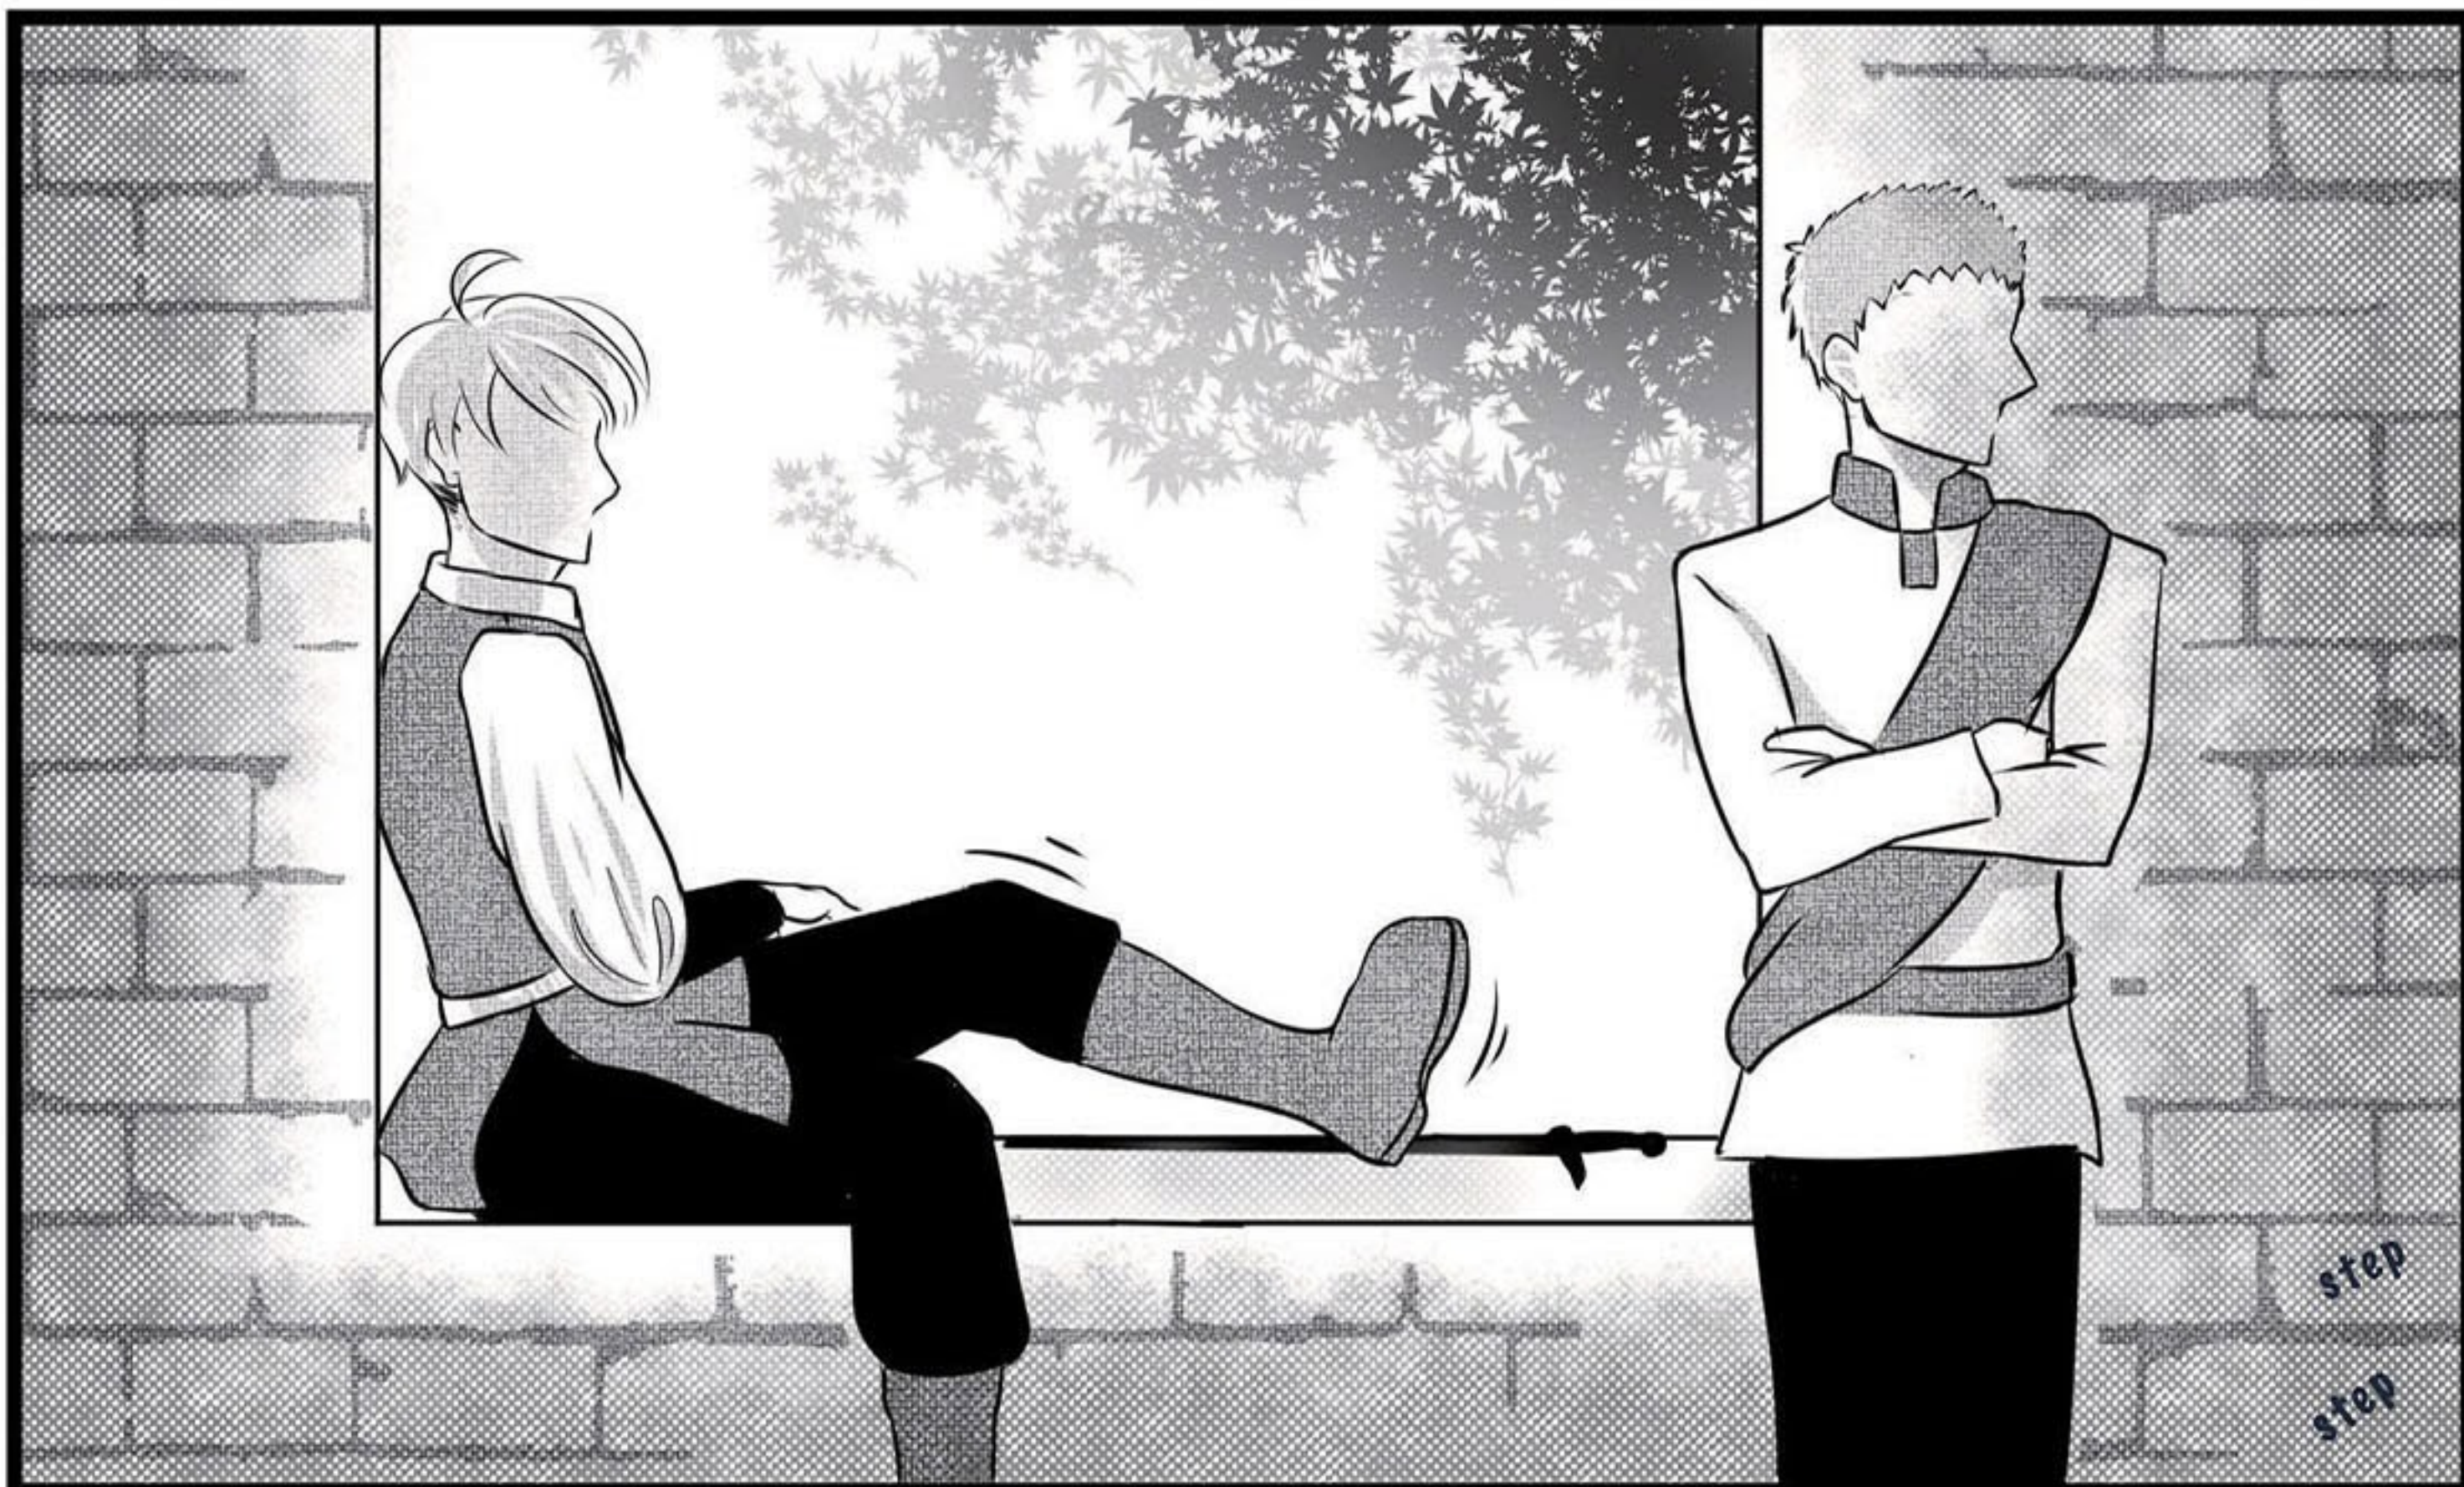

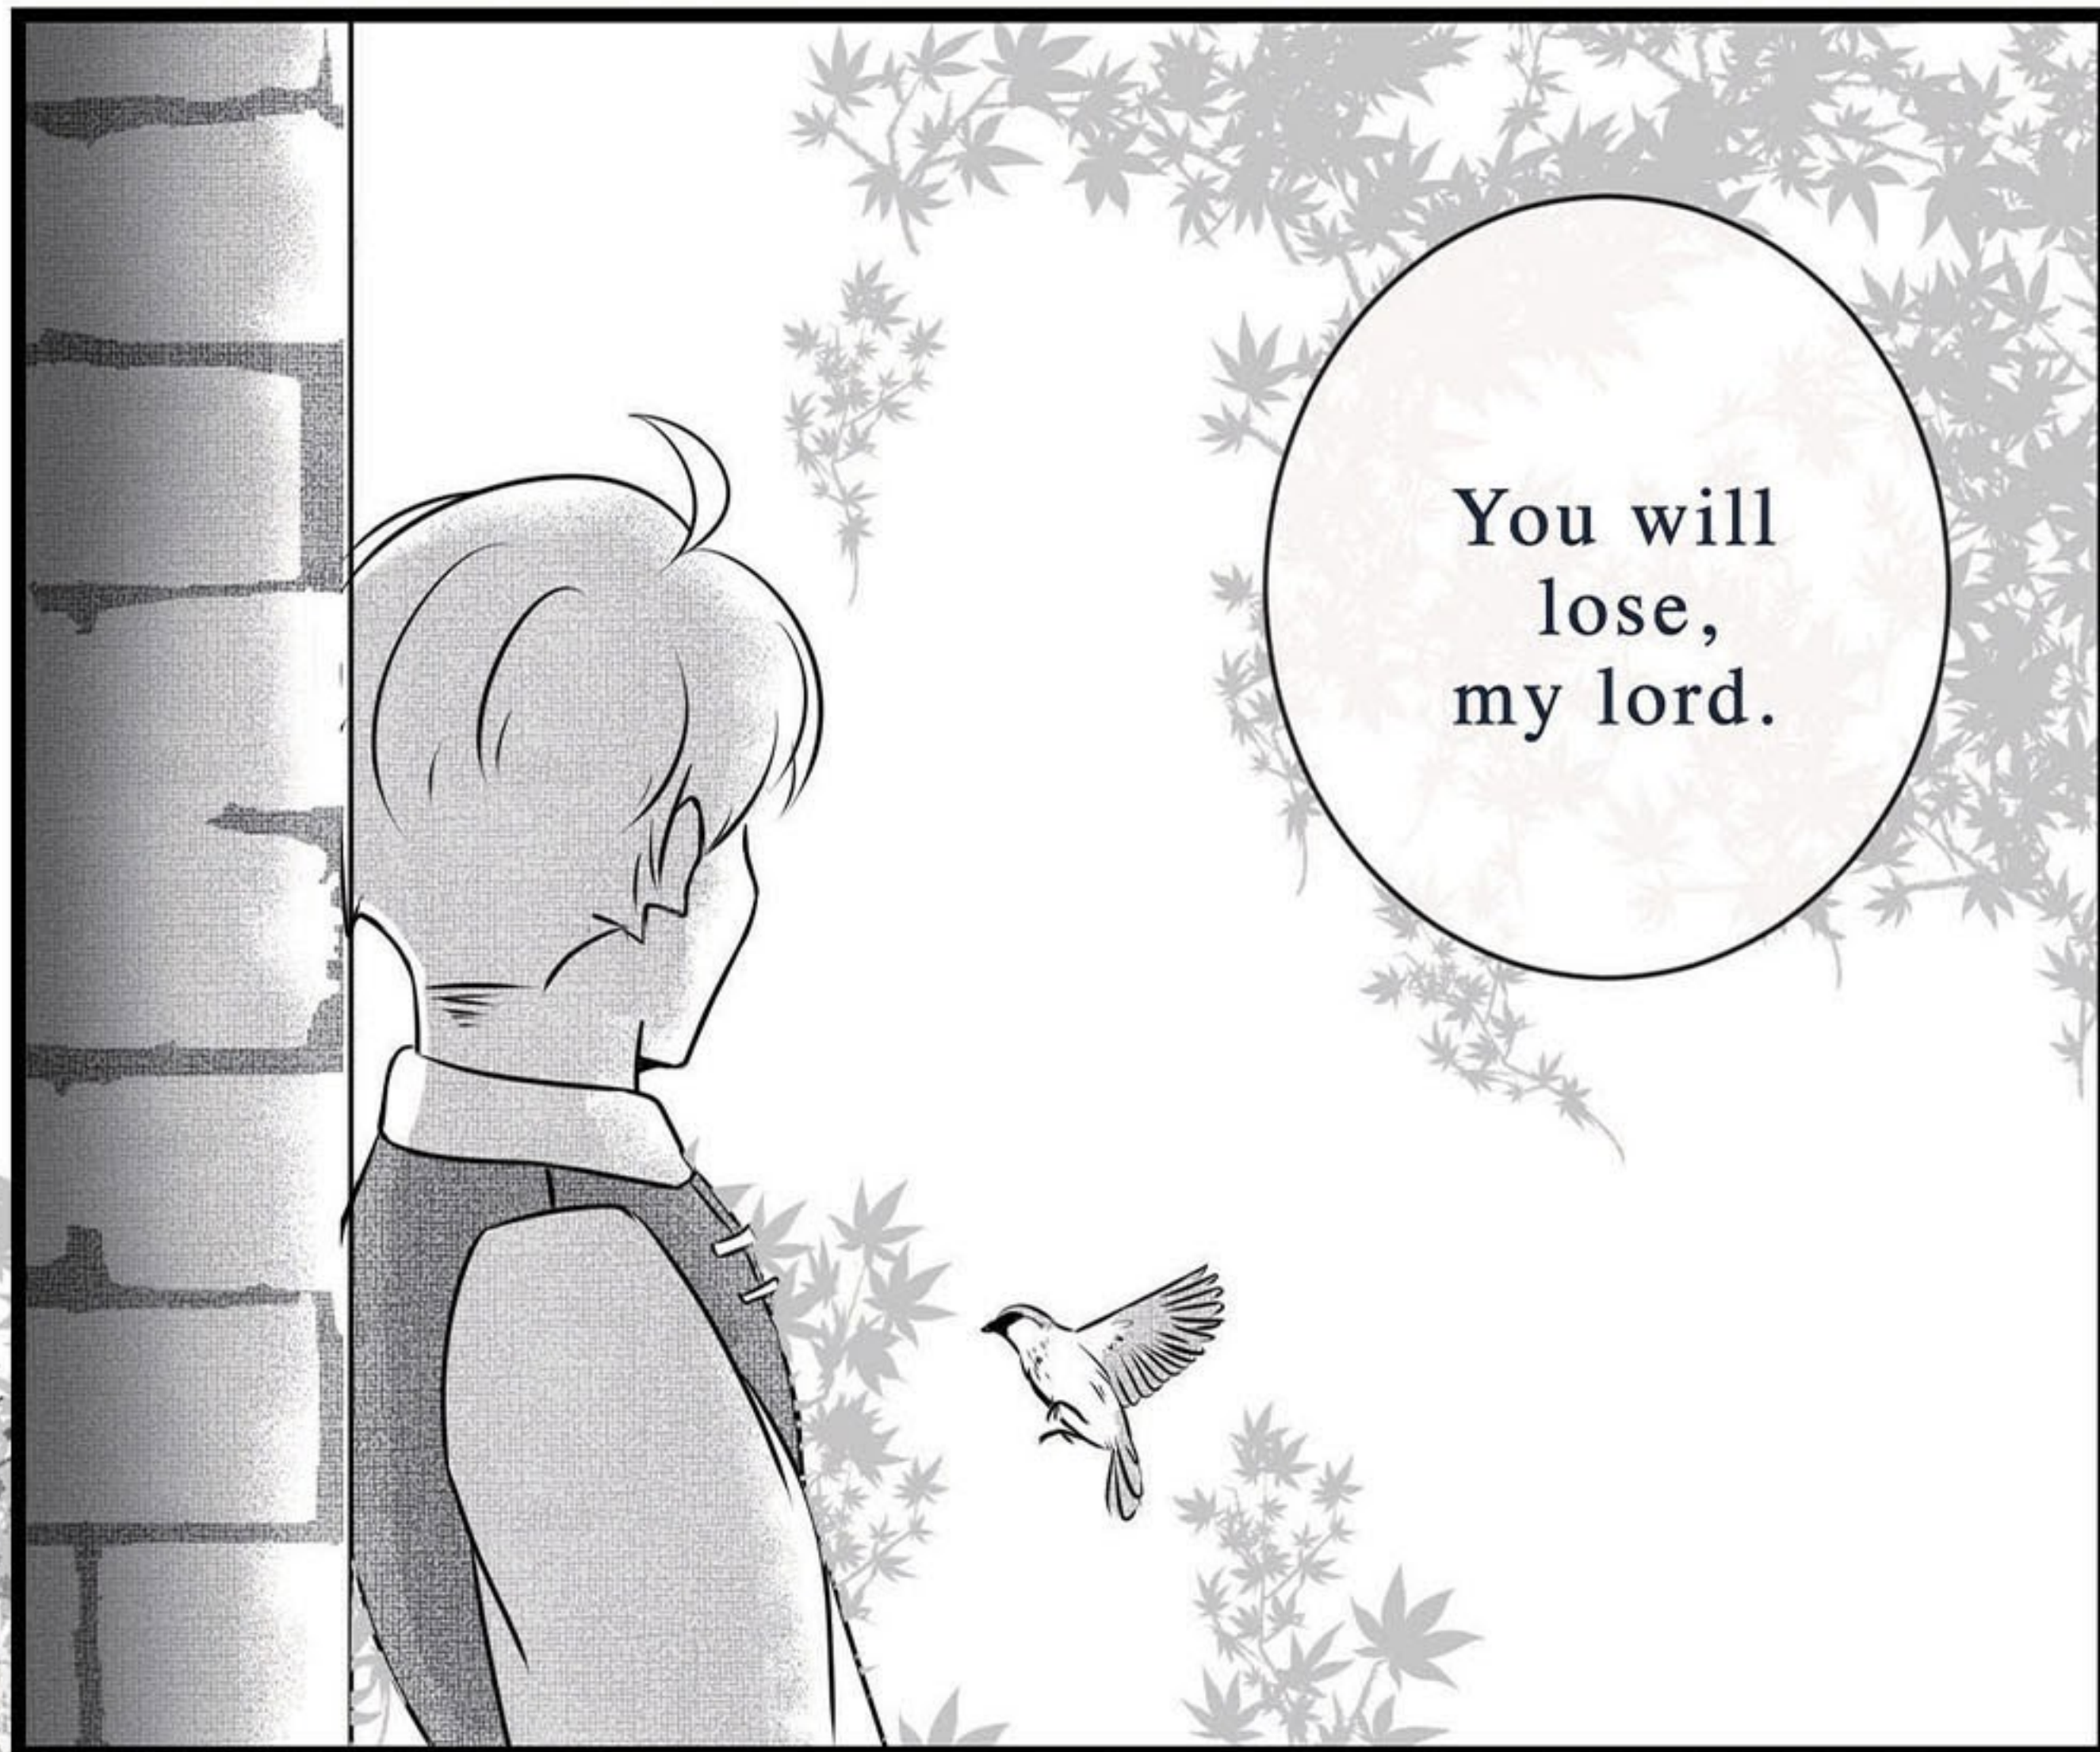

The Queen
desires you
to some gentle play
with Laertes.

She well
instructs me.

You will lose, my lord.

I do not think so.

Since he went to France, I have been in continual practice.

I shall win at the odds;

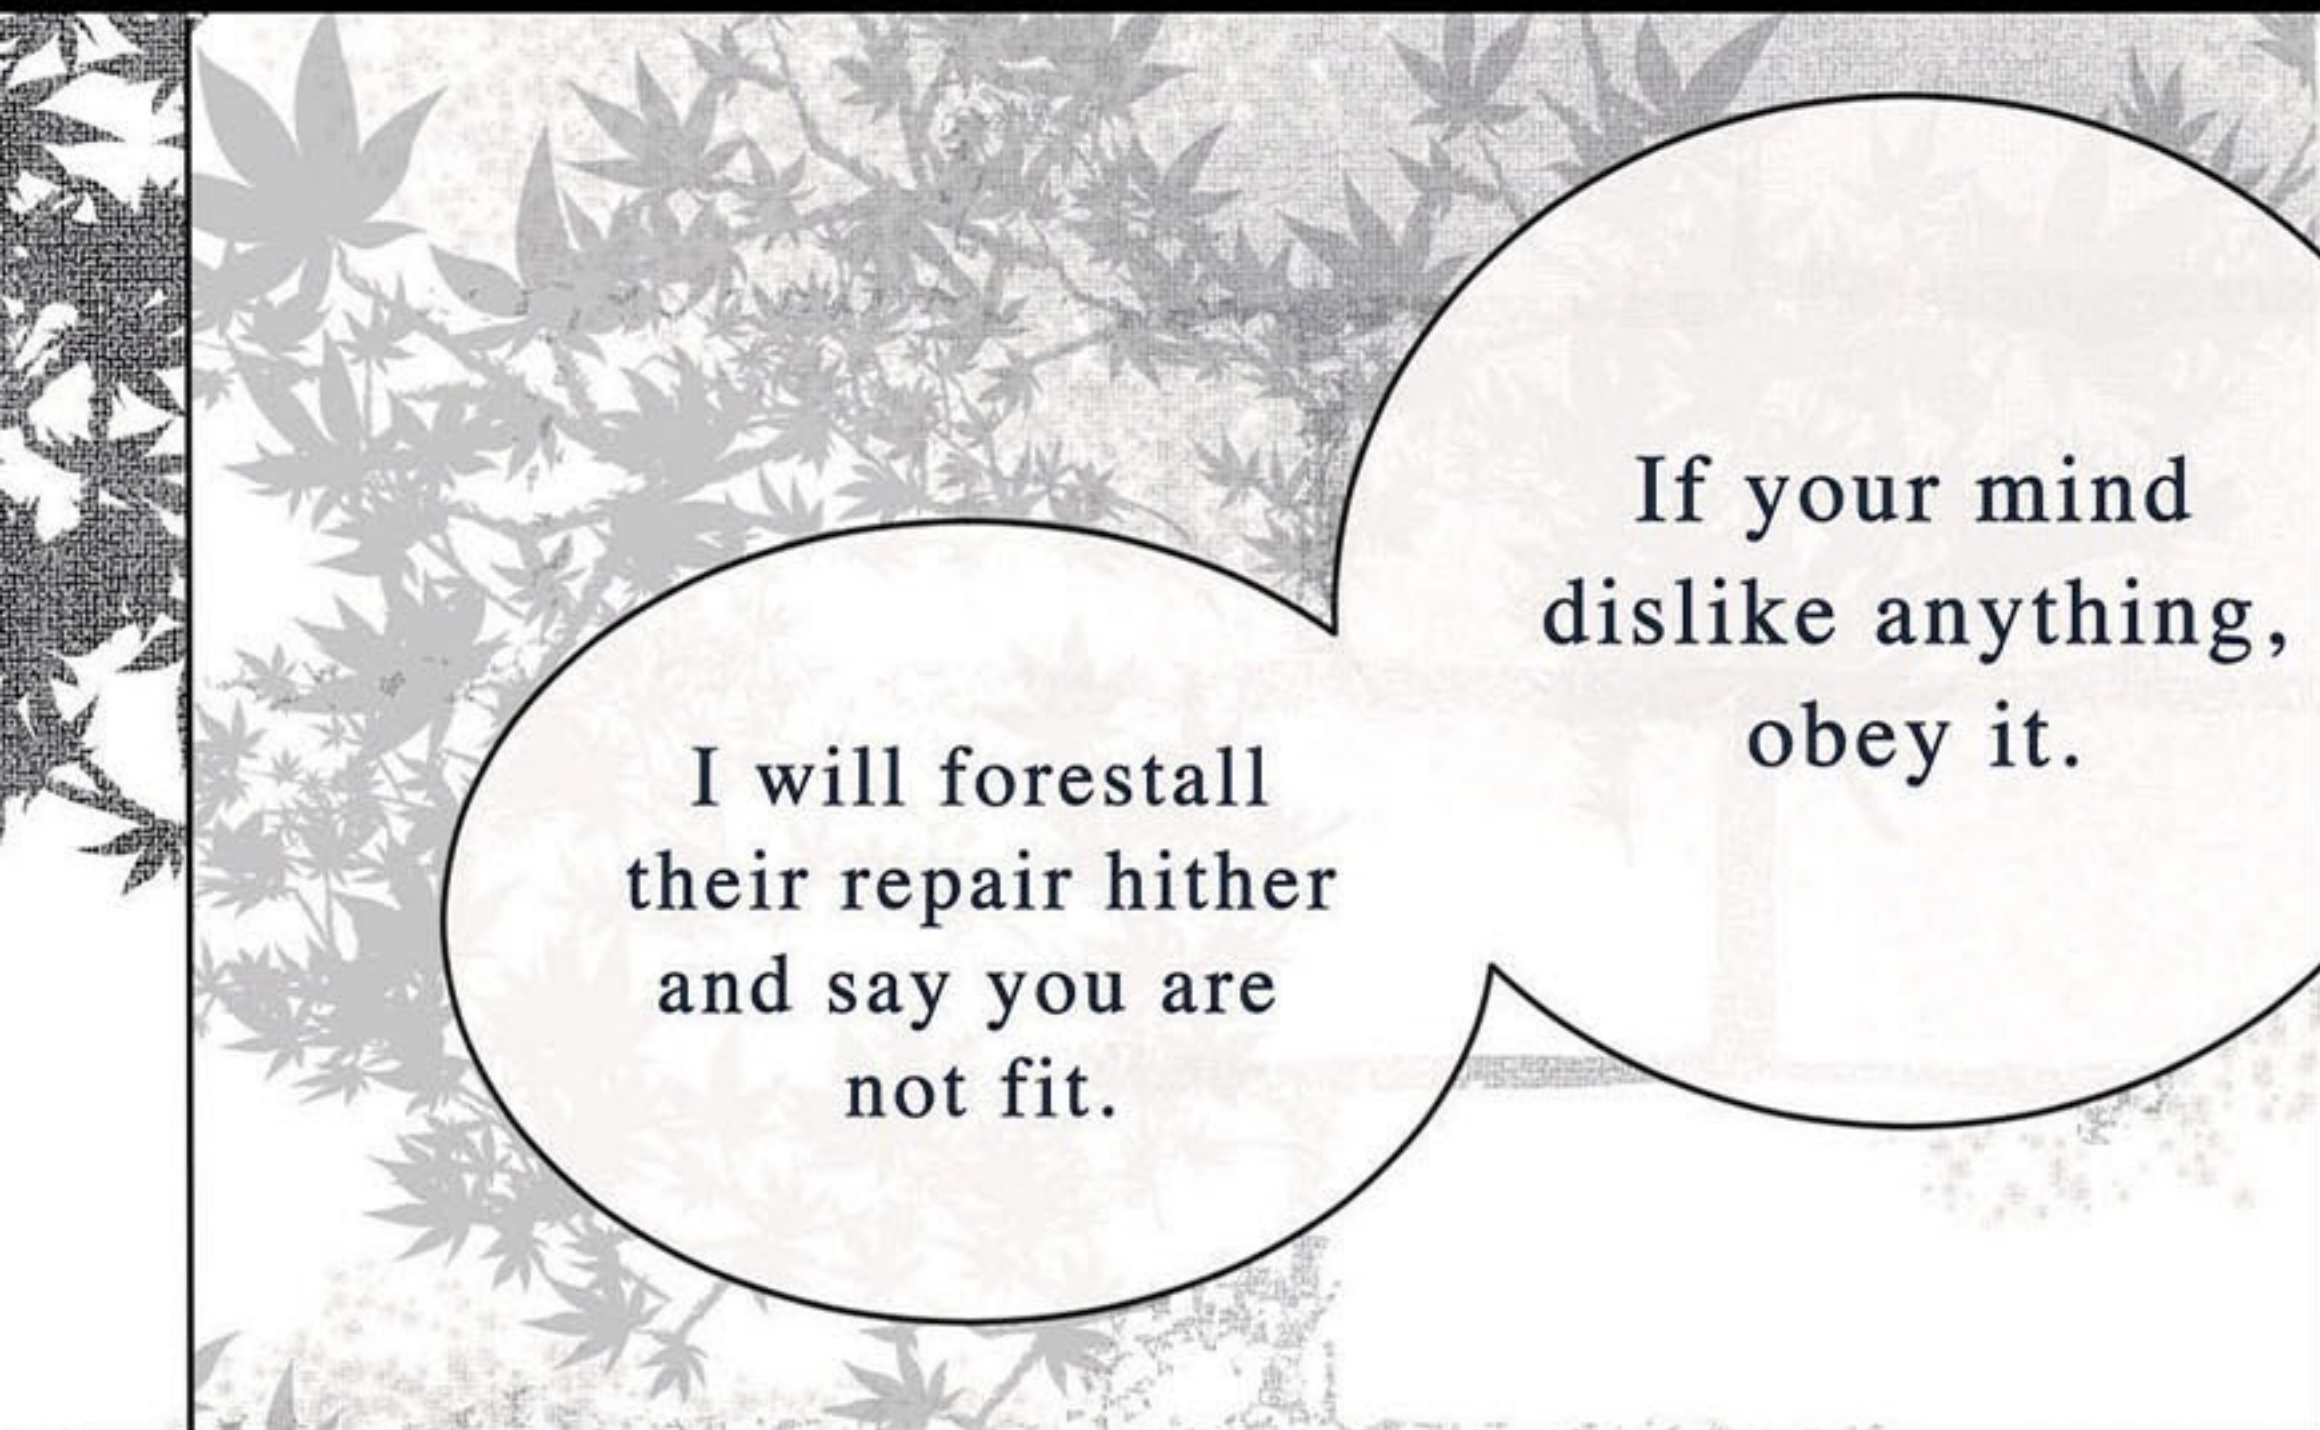

But thou wouldst not think how ill all's here about my heart.

But it is no matter.

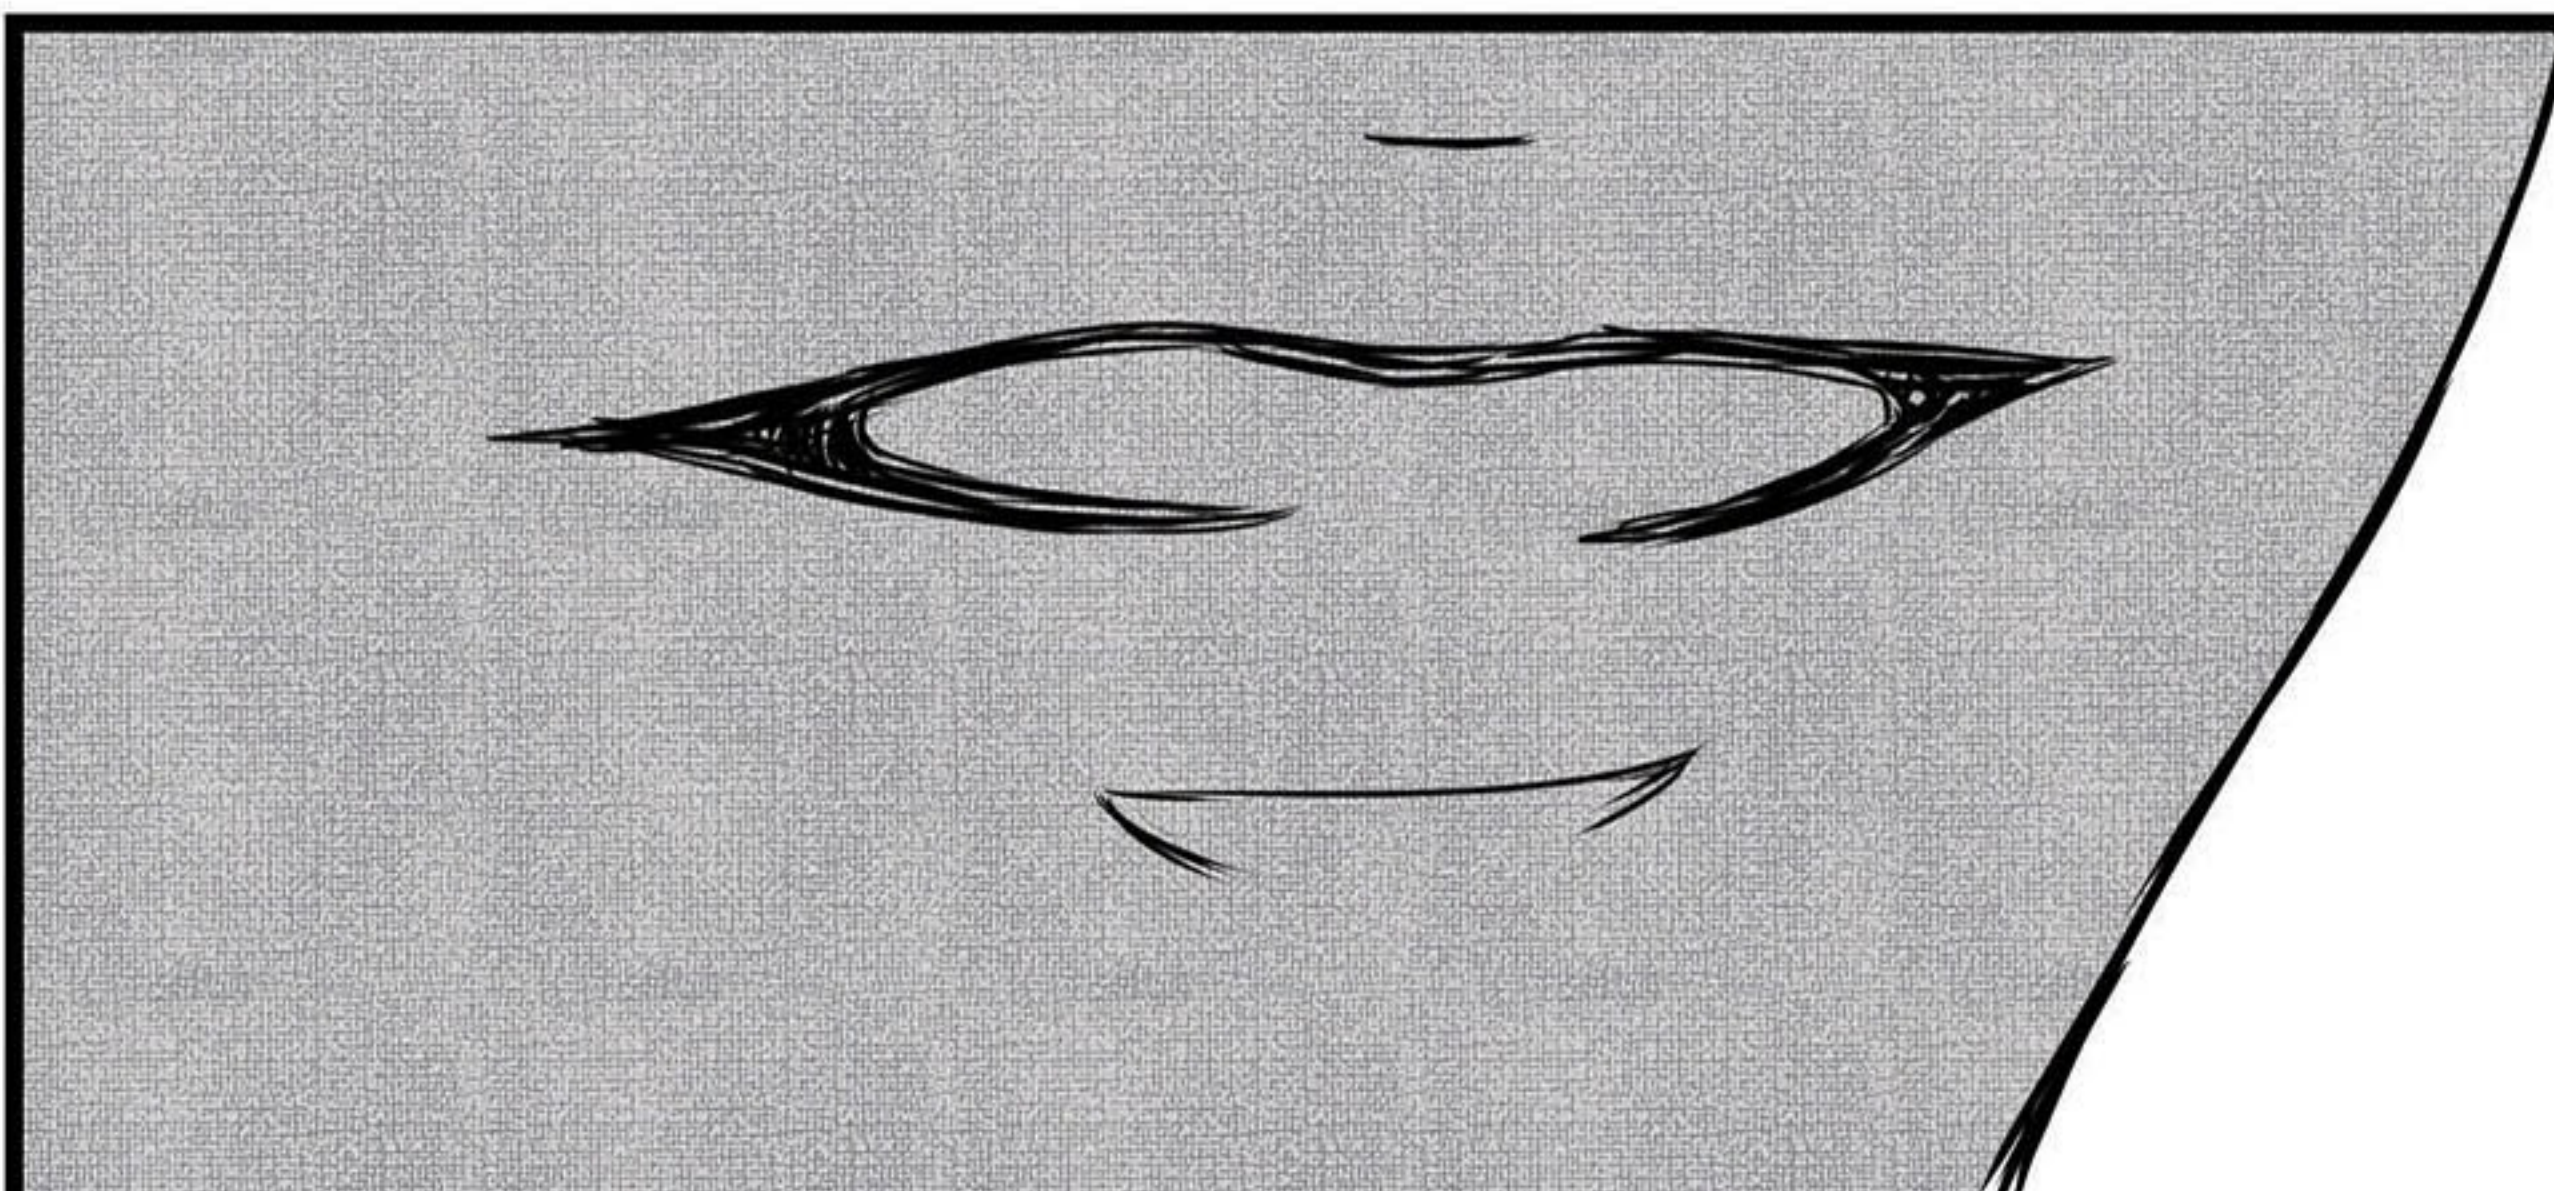

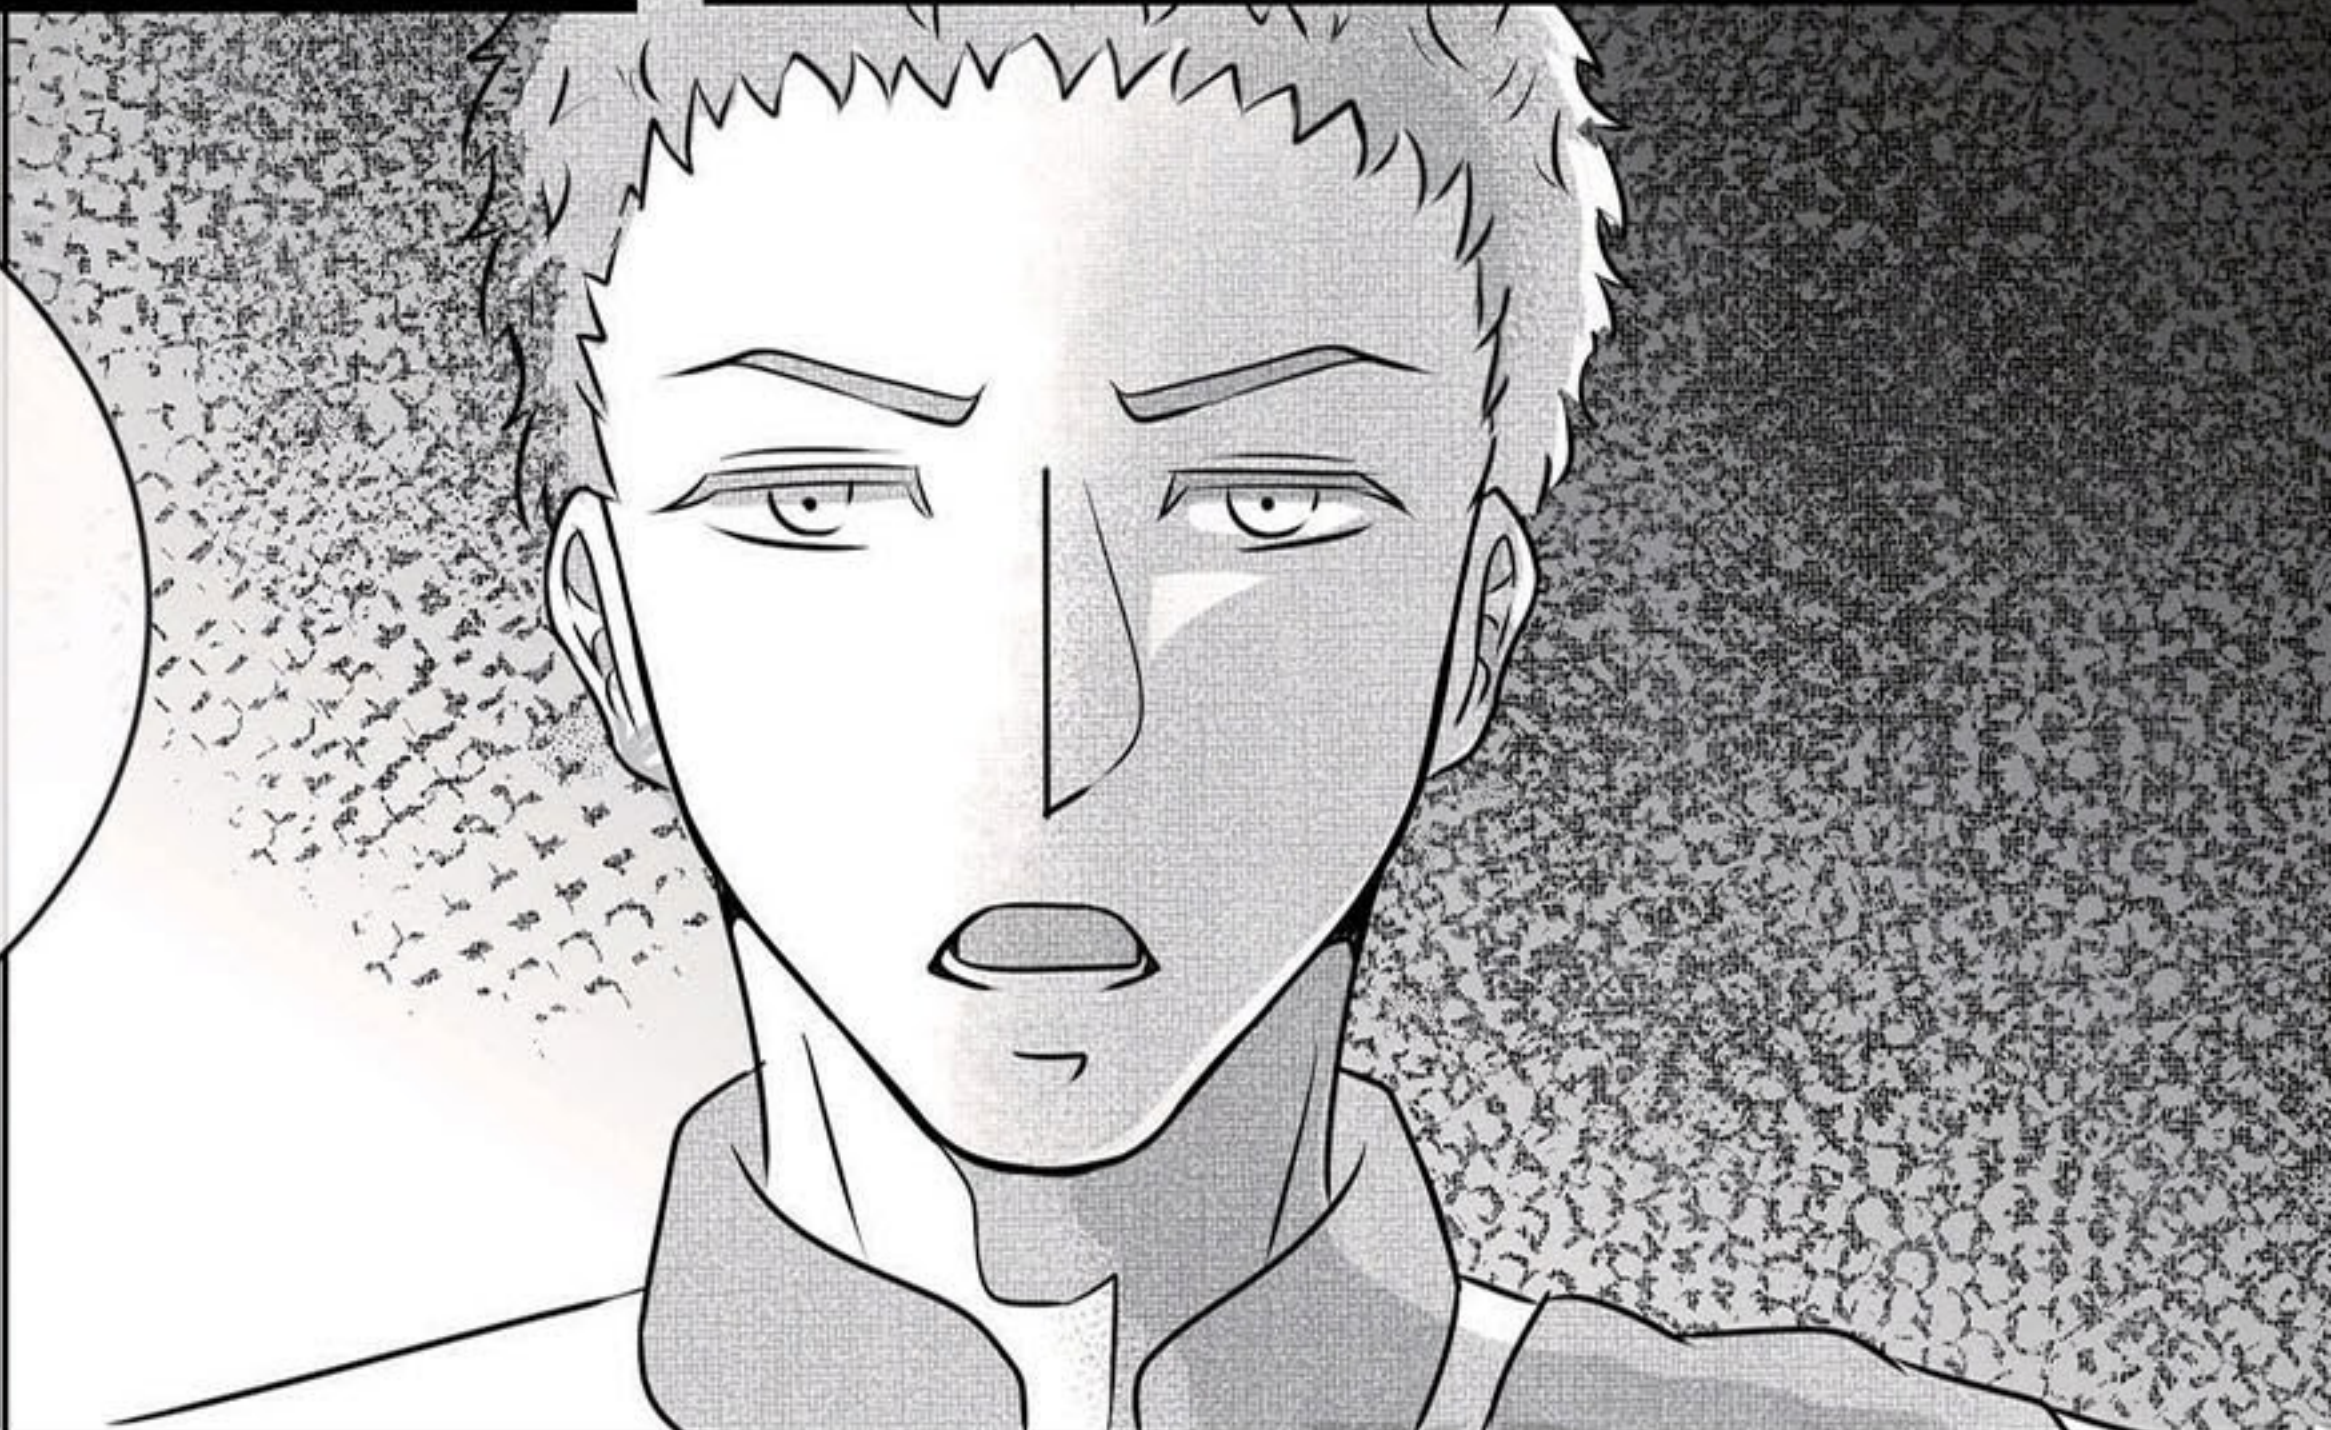

It is but foolery,
but it is such a kind of gaingiving as would perhaps trouble a woman.

Nay,
good
my Lord -

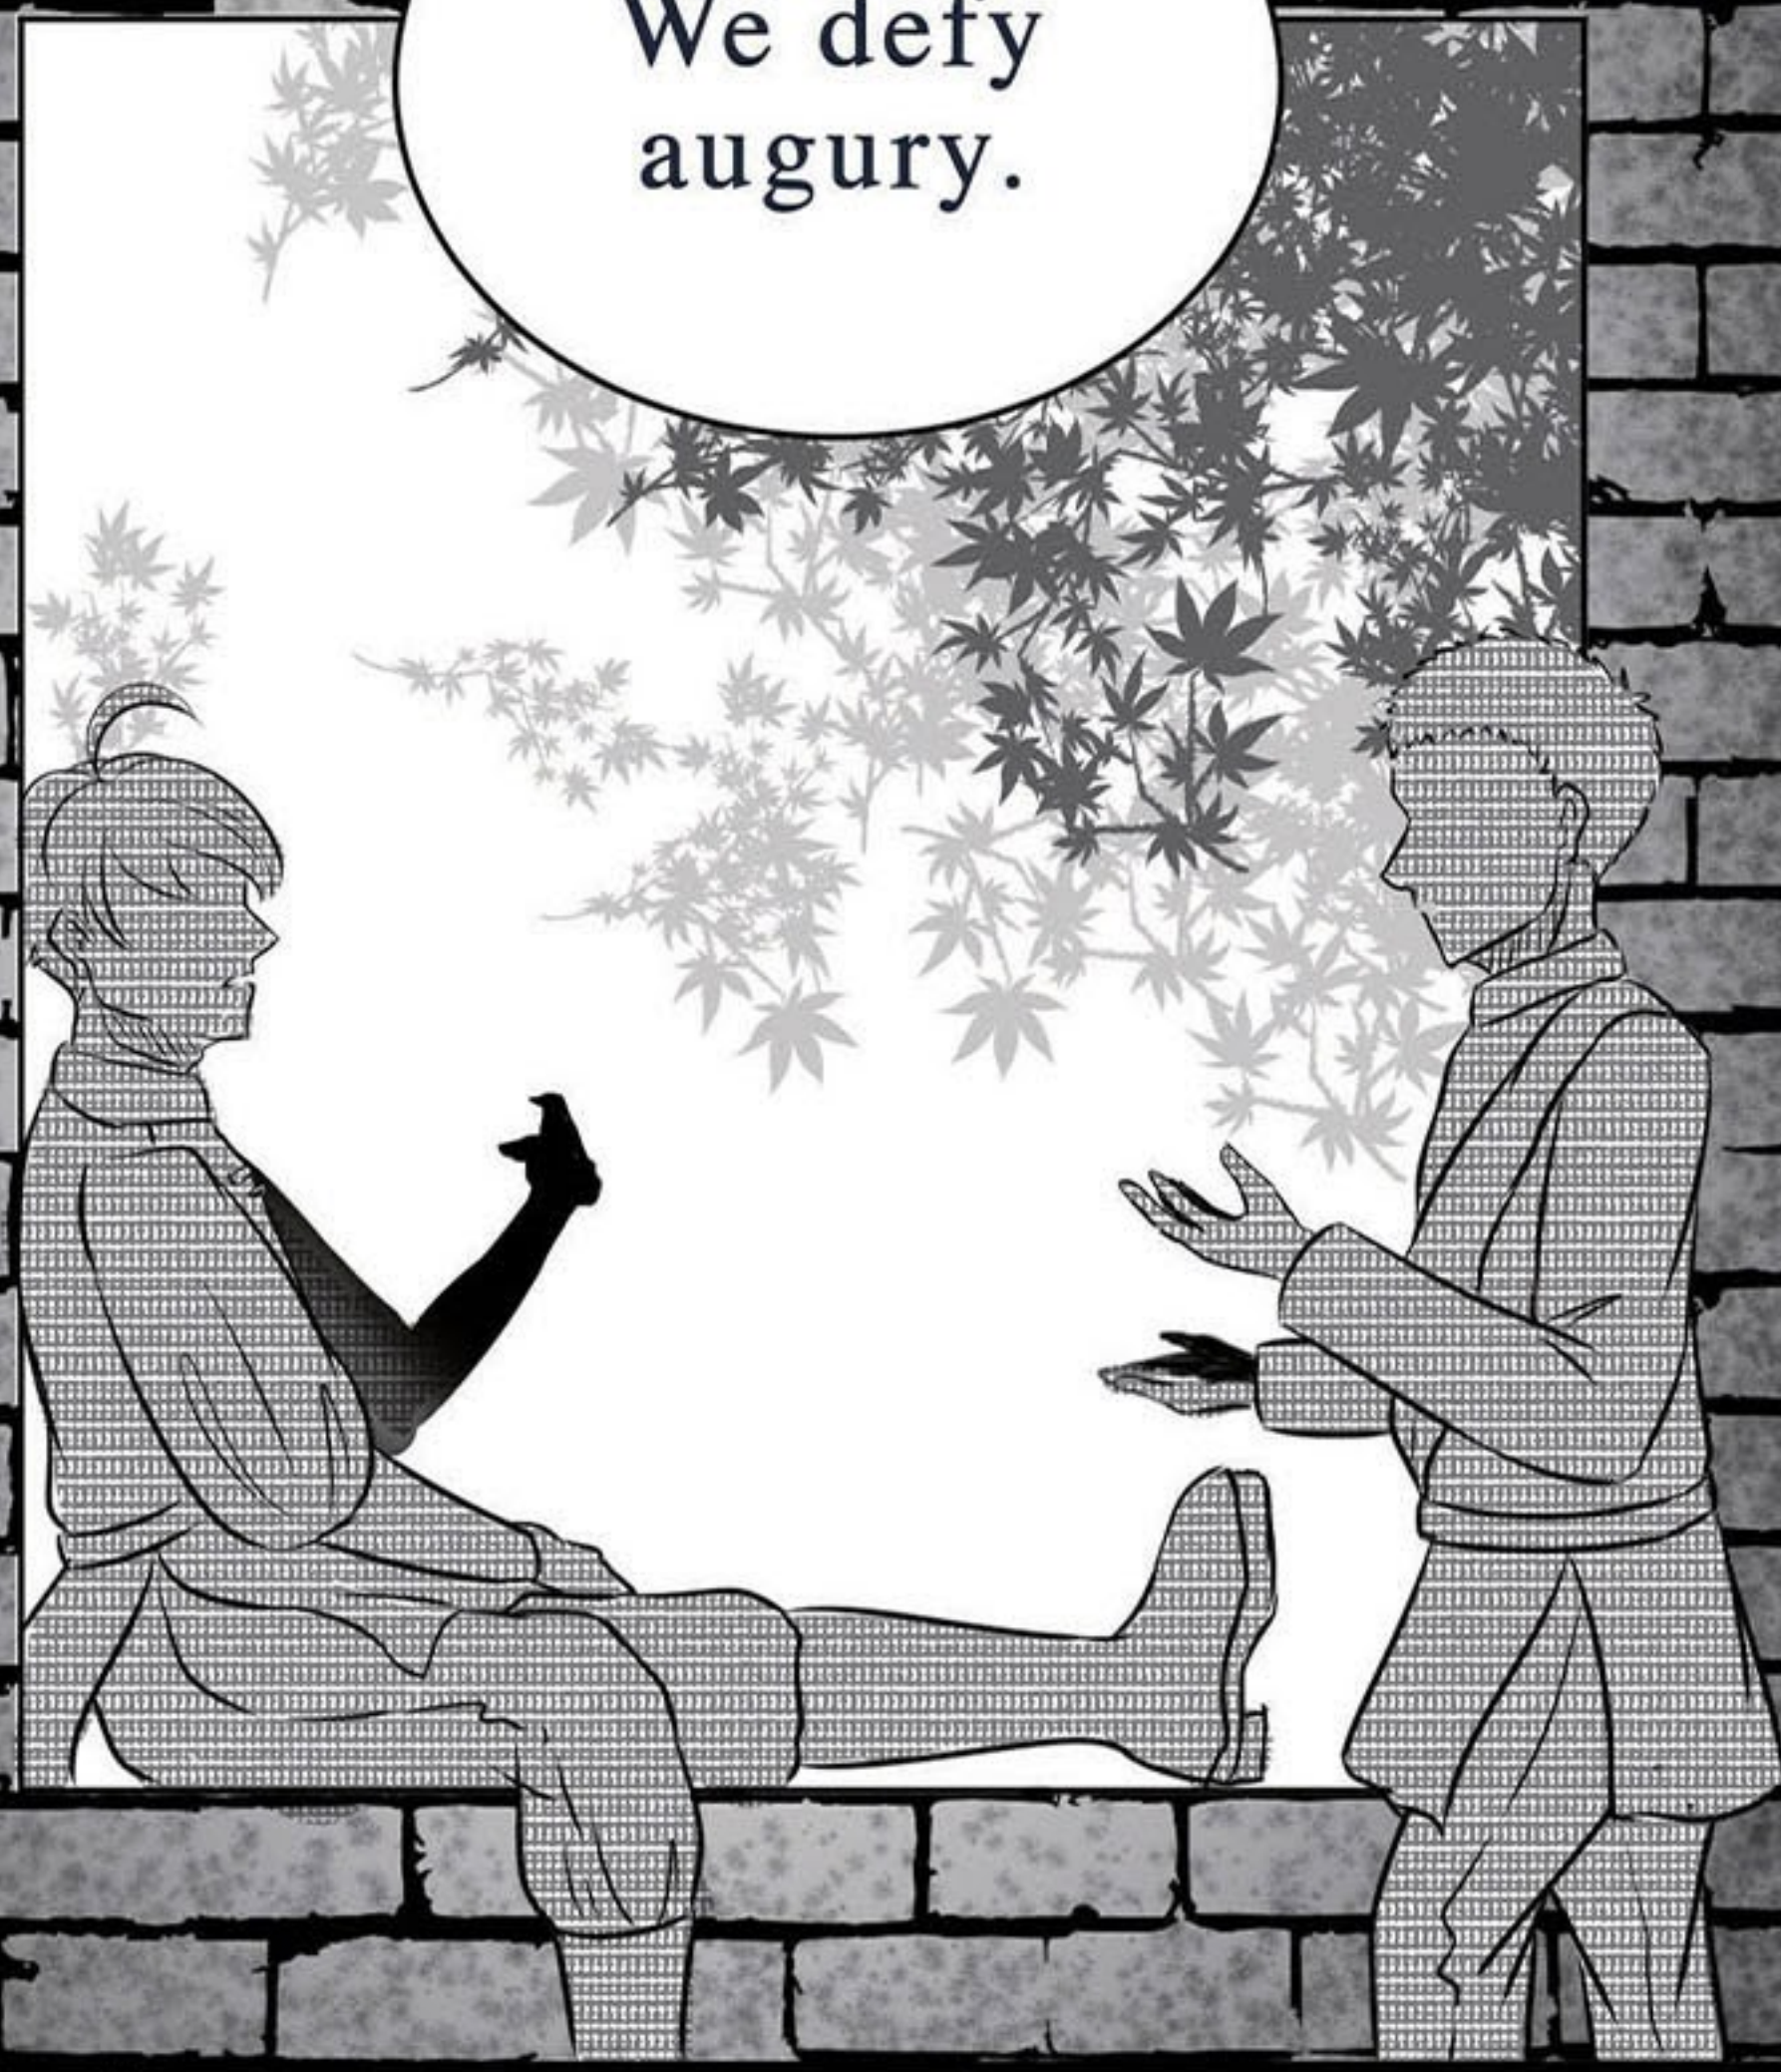

I will forestall
their repair hither
and say you are not fit.

If your mind
dislike anything,
obey it.

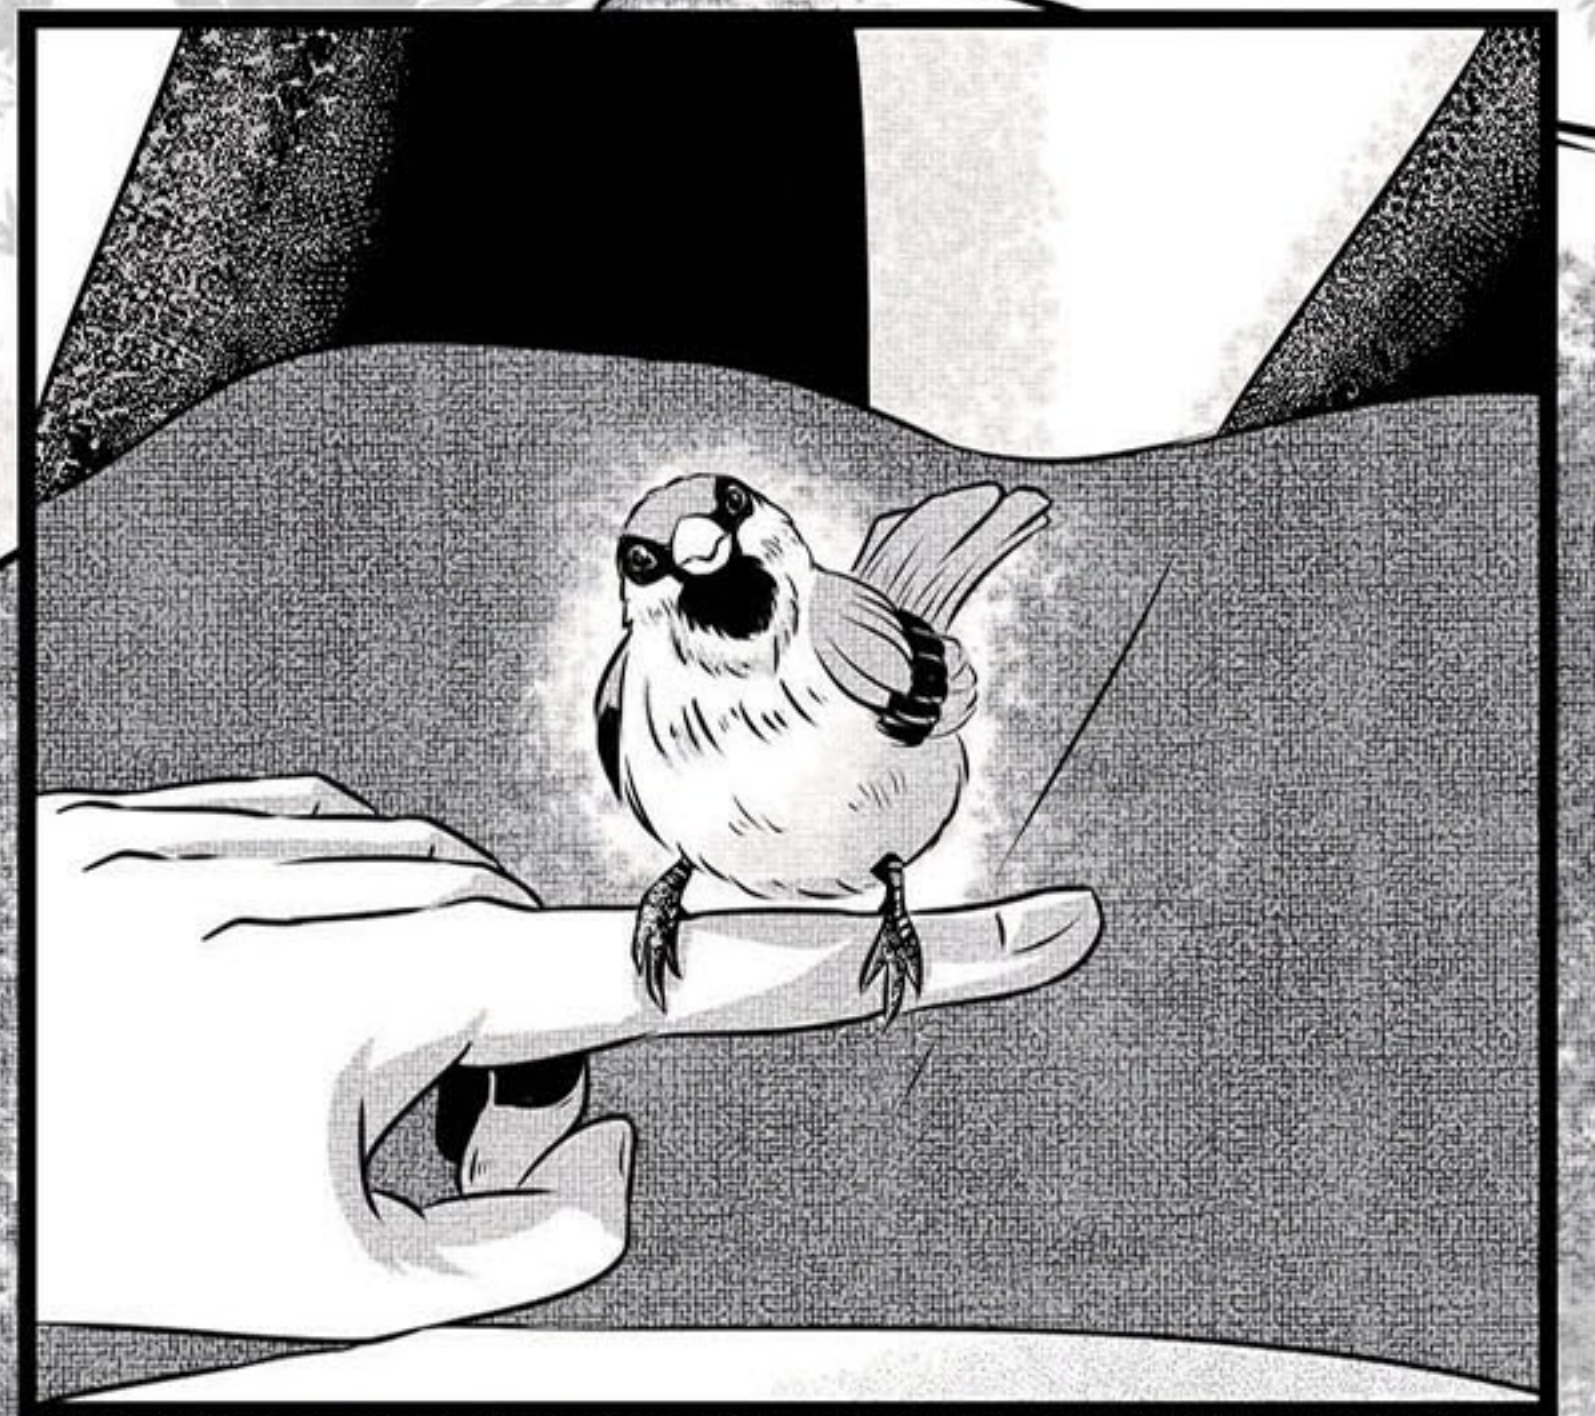

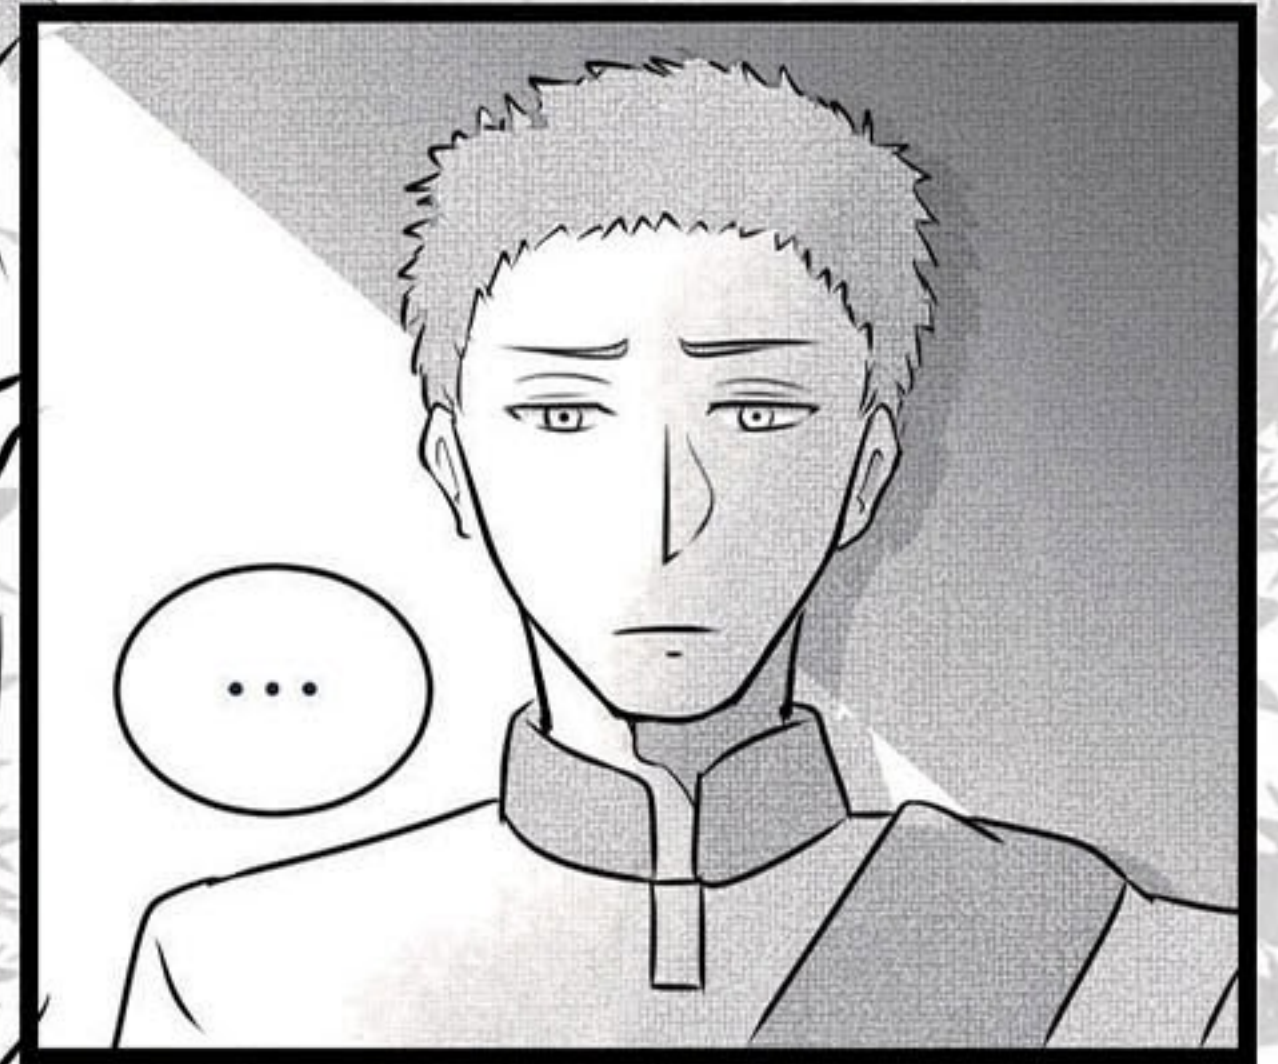

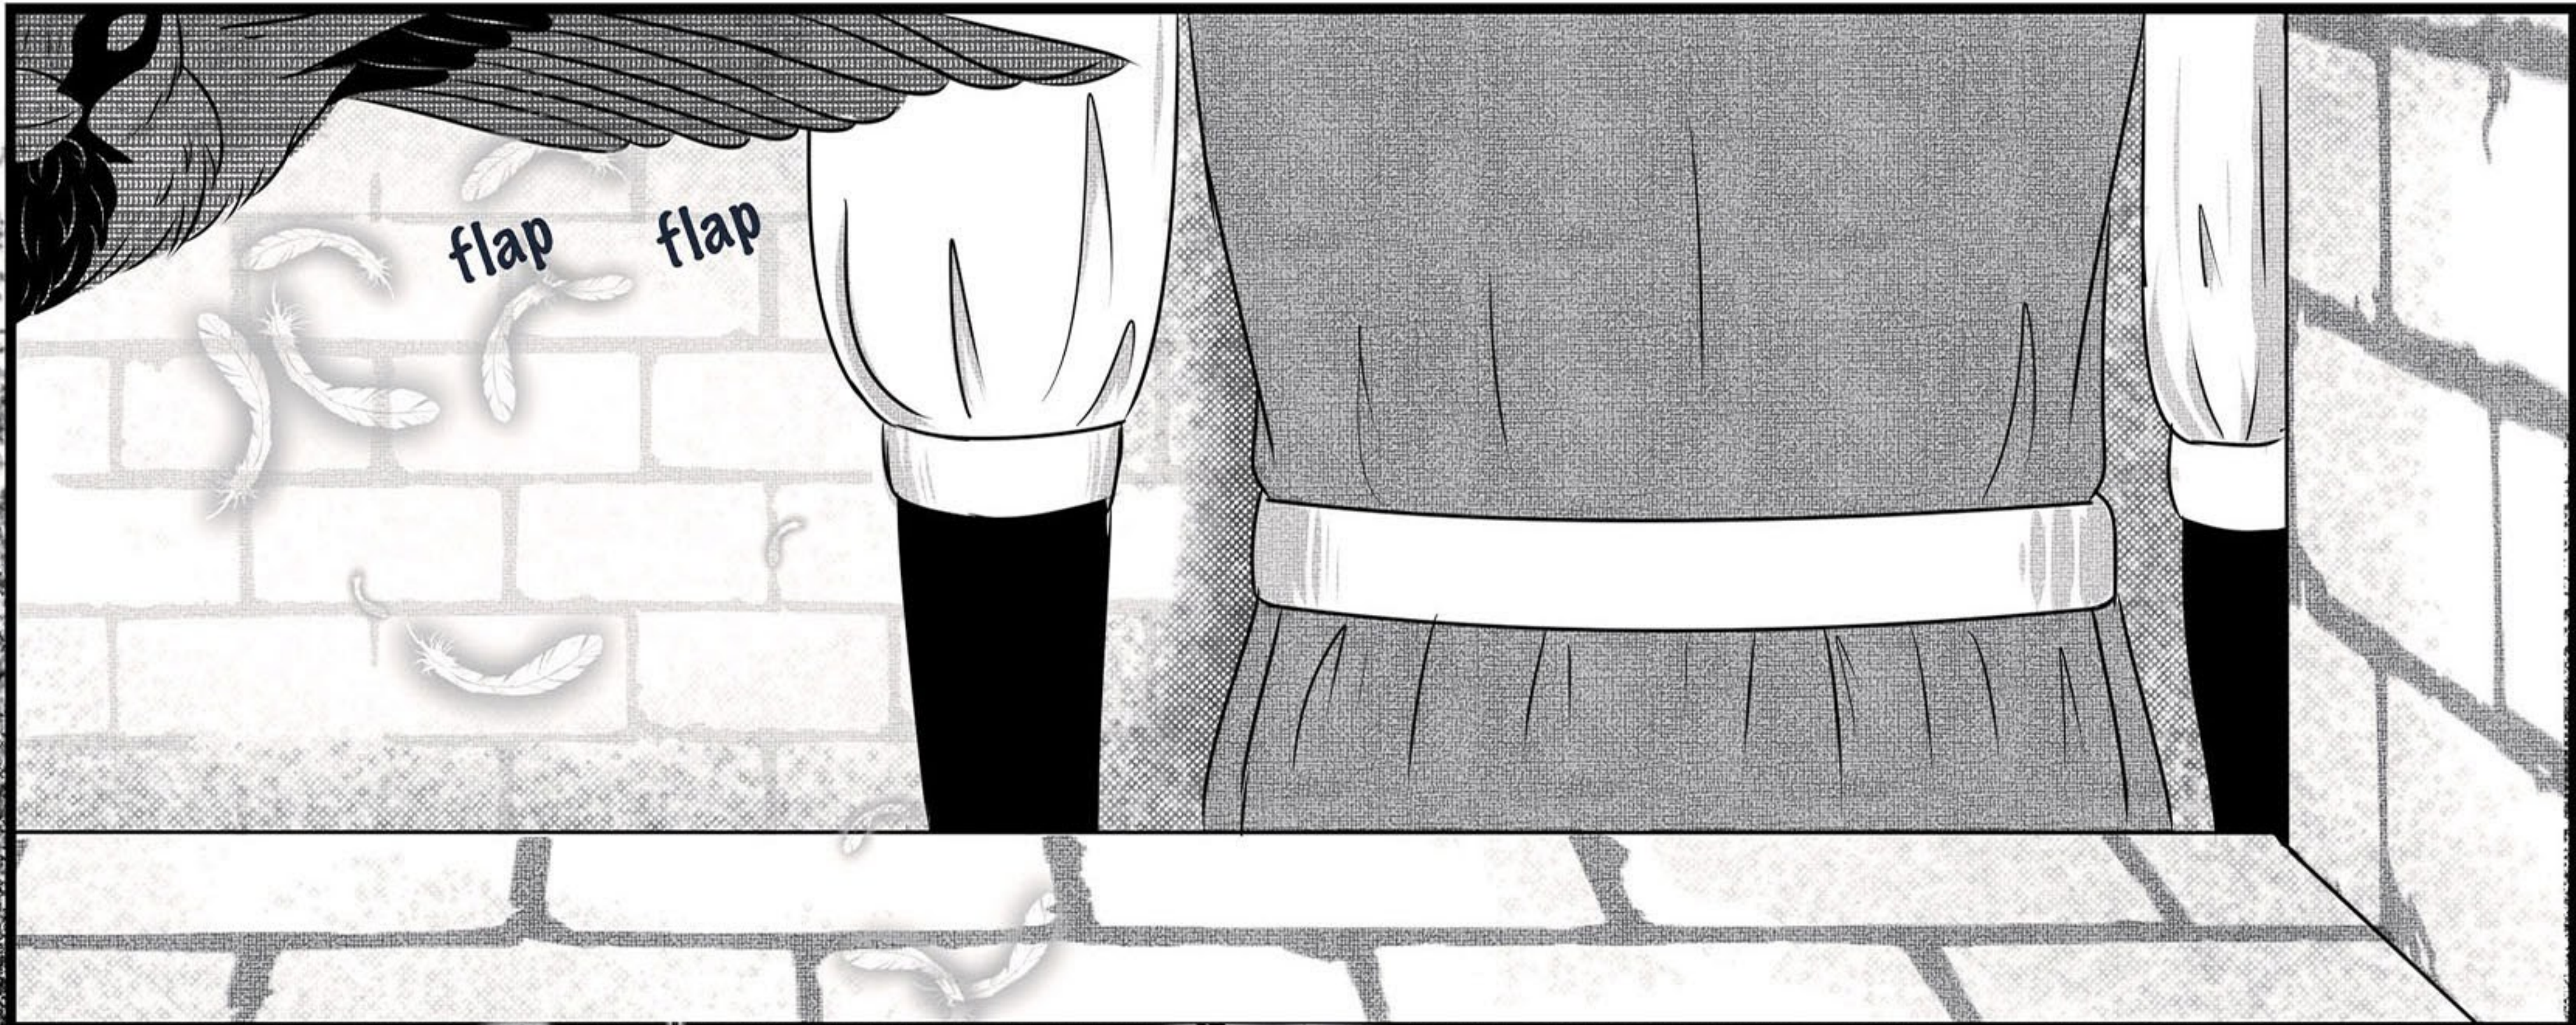

Not a whit.

We defy
augury.

There's a special providence
in the fall of a sparrow.

If it be
not now,
yet it will come,

If it be
not to come,
it will be now.

If it be
now,
'tis not
to come.

The readiness
is all.
